

Sponsoring Corporate Membership Benefits

- An association with a network respected for its quality, status, innovation and the excellence of its members.
- High profile corporate recognition through euspen Sponsor's web pages.
- Company logo, website link, latest news and events information maintained on euspen website.
- Complimentary attendance at euspen Annual Corporate Member's Lunch plus further guest invitation(s) on request.
- Complimentary listing and 1 page advert in euspen International Conference Proceedings.
- Access through euspen's members only website to over 2000 peer-reviewed technical papers published by euspen in the field and to a database of over 3000 individuals and organisations world-wide working within euspen's fields of technology.
- Copies of technical matter (papers and presentations) for euspen special interest group meetings and international conferences.
- The corresponding member will receive the quarterly Journal of the International Societies for Precision Engineering and Nanotechnology – "Precision Engineering".
- European members will receive 6 editions of the magazine MST News per year – the international magazine on Smart Systems Technologies.
- Provision of limited circulation presentations and publications from leading experts.
- Reduced fees for euspen conferences, seminars, training courses and euspen publications. This benefit is available to all employees from companies/institutions who are corporate members of euspen.
- Preference on conference exhibition booth assignment and time slots for company briefings at euspen international events.
- Reduced fees for exhibition booths at euspen international conferences.
- Facility to post vacancies on euspen website plus access to details of MSc/PhD students studying in the field for recruitment purposes.
- The opportunity to serve on the Society's Council and Committees.