

Paper Submission Agreement

To allow for publication, authors are required to transfer copyright.

1. Agree to transfer copyright and

2. Have the authority to transfer copyright.

Copyright Transfer Agreement: ORIGINALITY AND OWNERSHIP The proceedings of the above conference may be printed and distributed by euspen in electronic and paper formats. Ownership and permissions of the proceedings (paper & electronic formats) are reserved by euspen such that they are free to reproduce all, or part, of submitted papers. This does not restrict the author from printing and distributing his/her own paper for his/her own non-commercial use and the author has the right to prepare derivative publications based on the submitted paper. It is the responsibility of the authors, not euspen, to determine whether disclosure of their material requires the prior consent of other parties and, if so, to obtain it. euspen relies upon its authors to receive the appropriate permissions and to indicate so in the text.

By signing this agreement the authors warrant that:

- The paper is original and has not been previously published elsewhere
- All necessary reproduction permissions or licenses have been obtained
